Enjoy all of your Favorite Content on the Big Screen

Tired of squinting to watch movies on your laptop while your HDTV sits idly by? Want to show your vacation photos, Hulu video, or presentation on a large display? With Actiontec's ScreenBeam™ Wireless Display Kit you can mirror whatever is on your Wi-Fi Certified Miracast mobile device or select laptops* onto your HDTV. Surf the Web or watch movies from Netflix, Hulu, Amazon, or YouTube – all from the comfort of your living room couch.

Works with Select Windows 7/8 Laptops

ScreenBeam is the industry's first solution that can stream content from select Windows 7 or Windows 8 laptop/PCs, as well as Miracast-certified mobile devices.

Ensure your device is compatible with ScreenBeam by going to www.actiontec.com/wirelessdisplay

*Minimum System Requirements apply.

Easily Display Presentations or Your Entire Laptop Screen in the Conference Room or Office

Need an impromptu meeting in the office? Have a big presentation in the conference room? With ScreenBeam, you can push your entire laptop screen or just a portion to a large HDTV. And in the conference room, you can easily share your laptop screen with the projector for hassle-free presentations.

Less Interference with ScreenBeam Specific Wireless Network

ScreenBeam creates a dedicated wireless display connection to your HDTV that does not require an existing wireless network. This means you can stream HD content all you want without any impact on the Wi-Fi network you use for social networking, voice, data, and more. Likewise, your ScreenBeam Wi-Fi transmission will be less likely to interfere with your existing Wi-Fi network.

Unlike Other Solutions, ScreenBeam...

1. Can be used with select Windows 7 or 8 laptops/PCs*
2. Works with select Intel® laptops/PCs with WiDi 3.5 or higher
3. Works with Miracast-certified devices
4. Is HDMI-certified for high quality connection to your HDTVs and projectors.
